

Mr. Congressman: PLEASE CHALLENGE ME TO CATCH A VAMPIRE

With all due respects, this is about vampires. Most of them are criminals. Some will even suck the blood of their own mother. Don't let that intimidate you. If you have none in your office now, the question then is - if your next appointment is a vampire, when & how would you know? Is that a fair question? Considering all the MLM, personal ads and sex parties, who wants to know? I can bust them if you'll help me. I need ESQs, MDs, ESPs, etc. I also need a hospital because some could still be cured. Because some vampires can not be overestimated, I also need a barge. I got to keep them far from land & cold. Cops? Yes, but they think it's a crank call. I faxed the FBI when OJ was still on.

If you have one or two in your office now, what can you do to protect yourself? First, trying to know how to spot them could be a waste of time. So what can you do? Understand that life is possible under certain environment. So under what room environment would make things difficult for vampires? That's what you need to know! Is that all? Nope, but that's the easiest thing you can do now.

What if you suspect someone? I suggest - you tell me now. You've got everything to gain. I promise you. You know you can use some protection. On the other hand, most likely you are wrong. Because vampires are those you would least likely suspect. As someone said there are "wolves in a lambs clothing". Think, everyone recruits those who are talented and the best. Well, vampires do the same. Just think, with all the advances in medicine what do they know about vampires? With all our budget on the CIA and the FBI, what do they know? Tell me, can you suspect judges, nurses, writers, & jewelers?

As some of you know, Dracula was a Count. He was rich and a serial vampire. This type of vamps are around and they bite/recruit those who are beautiful and financially resourceful. Why? In this world everyone needs money. And the need it most cuz they live almost forever. They are lonely & live in fear. To find comfort some would bite/recruit from the insecure illegals to the stinking bums in Grand Central. Why? Some got to learn how to bite. So they practice. To keep them around, he has to provide them a job. And, because these new vamps would like to get rich too, who is safe? Because they can communicate with spirits, who is safe? Because knowledge is power. From them you have no secrets. For them, there are no secrets. Some are powerful beyond comprehension. I got none of that. I have guts. Help me and you help all of us.

With regards to vampires, the CIA said "no one in the government can help". What does that say? That they are powerful beyond comprehension, right? That they are truly organized? How organized? Ever heard of the secret societies like the Rosicrucian and the Freemasonry? Well, there are those we still do not know. I say if you suspect someone to be a vamp, tell me now. That's the best help you can do now other than organizing a meeting. I will come and give you a talk. You see, I think we have to go on the offensive, if we want to cure.

The problem is, maybe you are not even sure if vampires are real? Then ask yourself, what would it take to convince yourself? Do I have to catch you a vampire? Ask me, and then SEND ME ALL THE NAMES, PHONES & FAX NUMBERS OF ALL THE MEMBERS OF CONGRESS AND TO WHICH COMMITTEES THEY BELONG. Why? Because most vampires if not all are not just bloodsucking criminals. Trust me.
